Important Information:

Dates: 10th – 14th April, 2022

Venue: Woxsen University,
Hyderabad, India

The next decade of our lives will be both the most significant test and prolific opportunity for humankind. We are all feeling the disruption of systemic, social, environmental and governance changes in our world and how exponential technologies are fundamentally reshaping our daily lives and the future.

This is our moment to shift our focus to what matters most, which is creating solutions that contribute to people, planet and prosperity and build our progressive paths to impact.
